Cadiz, April 20. N. S.

ON the 8th Instant the Ostend Convoy put to Sea, being about 18 Sail, with two English Merchant Ships in their Company, the one bound for Bilboa, and the other for Scotland. The 15th sailed hence the Spanish-Merchant, Capt. Bernard Ludman, and another English Vessel bound to the North. The St. Andrew, Capt. Fuller, arrived here the 18th in 16 days from Leghorne, as did likewise two other English Vessels from Zant and Marseilles. The Ships designed for Buenes-Aires are come into this Bay, and will sail to night or to morrow.

Madrid, April 30. Their Catholick Majesties left this Place yesterday, and are gone with the whole Court to Toledo. The King gave Leave the night before his departure, to the Count de Monterey to come to Court, who accordingly Kissed the King and Queens Hands, and went the next day to visit the French Ambassador. Orders have been sent to the Ships designed to meet the Galeons to sail from Cadiz with all expedition. We have advice from Ceuta of the 18th Instant, that the Moores continue the Siege of that place with great obstinacy, and press that Garison so much, that the Governor has sent for further and speedy Supplies of Men and Ammunition.

Warsaw, May 10. The Gentlemen of the Rokotz continue assembled at Lowitz; and the Popes Nuncio who went thither to persuade them to an Agreement, having given an account of the good disposition the Chief of that Assembly are in; The King has again appointed Commissioners to Treat with them; and for this purpose made choice of the Bishop of Posnen, and the Under Chancellor of Lithuania; who immediately repaired to Lowitz, and, we hear, have already made such a Progress in their Negociation, that the Primate has promised to come hither in a few days to wait on the King, and has sent Orders to his Servants to fit up the Archiepiscopal Palace in this City against his arrival; and all those of his Party do now express the same readiness to make their Submissions to the King. 'Tis confirmed by the last Accounts from Lithuania, that the Sieur Oginsky resolving to attack a Post which was defended by some of the Great Generals Forces, and having appointed the Troops he had with him (which were formerly part of the Lithuanian Army) for this Service, they instead of obeying his Command went over and surrendred themselves on Discretion to the Officer who commanded for General Sapieha; Whereupon the Gentlemen who accompanied Oginsky immediately dispersed, leaving Oginsky in a manner alone, who with only two Servants made his escape to Wilan; where he has yet some Friends, but as we are informed, too few to occasion any farther Disturbance; Of which General Sapieha it seems, is so secure, that he has writ to the King to desire his Commands for marching with the Army of Lithuania to join his other Forces, which have already left their Winter Quarters, and are advancing towards the Frontiers. The King has appointed Major General Jordan to go as his Envoy Extraordinary to the Crown of France, and he has already begun his Journey thither, the Popes Nuncio having, as is said, assured the King, that he will be very well received at that Court.

Vienna, May 10. We hear the 3 Companies of the Rhingrave's Regiment of Foot which lately Mutinied at Leopolstadt, are returned to their Duty. We have Advice from Peter-Waradin, that a Chiaux is come to Belgrade in his way to Vienna, being sent by the Grand Signior with Proposals of Peace to his Imperial Majesty. Our Letters from Croatia say, the Seraskier of Bosnia having made several fruitless Attempts to regain what the Turks lost in that Province during the last Campagne, has sent an Officer to Adrianople to represent the Impossibility of executing that Design, and to beg Leave to desist from the same; That in the mean while his Forces lie still in those parts, and the Country People whom he has summoned in to his Assistance have Orders to be in a readiness to march at an hours warning; and that on our side all the necessary Measures are taken for securing that Frontier.

Strasbourg, May 12. The Duke of Lorraine arrived here yesterday, he was met out of Town by the Marquis d'Uxelles, accompanied by several Officers and Persons of Quality who conducted him hither, the Garison being drawn up in his passage, and was saluted by a discharge of our Cannon. Being arrived to the Marquis d'Uxelles House, where he lay that night, he was Complimented by the Prince of Berkenfeldt and the Count of Hanaw, and other Persons of the chiefest Quality, and by the Deputies from our Magistracy, and from the Nobility of Alsace. This morning he took a view of the Fortifications of this place, and in the afternoon (being conducted out of the City with the like Honours) he set out for Saverne, where he intends to lie this night, and thence to pursue his Journey to Nancy.

Francfort, May 18. The Count de Boinebourg, Envoy from his Imperial Majesty, returned hither yesterday from Cassell, having settled all Matters relating to the Restitution of Rhinfeldt, and the Lands belonging to it, to the Landtgrave of Rhinfeldt, which will now be performed in a few days. The Dyet of the Circle of the Upper-Rhine is broken up, having agreed to furnish a certain number of Horse and Foot towards the Garisons of the Places restored by France, but have not yet determined what each City shall pay towards the Charges of their Maintenance.

Hambourg, May 20. Our Advices from Poland bring an account, that the Troubles in that Kingdom are now drawing to an end; That the Sieur Oginsky's Forces, which were part of the Army of Lithuania, are returned to their Obedience, having delivered up those who enticed them to quit their General Prince Sapieha; the chief of whom were sentenced as Rebels; and that the Sieur Oginsky being abandoned by all the Gentlemen of his Party was fled to Wilda. Our last Letters from Coningsberg of the 13th say, that the Elector
